

Situational Self Leadership

Training for Trainers

Our Training for Trainers sessions teach participants program-specific skills & provides time to practice developing the program before delivering it to their organization.

Participants will:

- Gain content & delivery expertise
- Create a game plan for achieving measurable impact
- Hone their delivery and facilitation skills
- Discover specific methods of implementation

Training Based Upon the Ken Blanchard Companies Model

Learning Objectives:

- Learn how to use the facilitator guide, lesson plans, and other materials to create a memorable, fun, and relevant learning experience.
- Practice presenting portions of The Magic of Situational Self Leadership and receive feedback on how to be more effective.
- Master the use of experiential and accelerated learning techniques to drive key concepts and give meaning to the training.
- Develop an implementation plan for rolling out The Magic of Situational Self Leadership in your organization.
- Get ready—be competent and committed—to train Situational Self Leadership.
